THE LATEST.

Senator Bacon's resolution demanding that Democratic members of the Finance Committee be allowed to attend the tariff hearings brought on a general tariff debate in the Senate. Senator Aldrich and Senator Hale defended the cause of the majority, declaring it had always been the custom in preparing tariff bills to exclude the minority. The resolution was sent back to the Finance Committee. Senator Hale's resolution limiting the legislation at the special session to the tariff and census bills was adopted.

Assistant Adjutant General Garnett Ripley was arrested yesterday on a charge of perjury. The warrant was sworn out by Judge E. H. Davis, of Shelby county, charging him with swearing falsely in testimony he gave in the sensational damage suit filed by Mrs. Josie Hazellett against Walker Duncan, in Shelby county. Duncan killed Hazellett during the night ride troubles in Shelby county last year.

After the Republican leaders of the House of Representatives decided not to attempt to bring in a special rule limiting the debate on the tariff bill, the debate dragged along listlessly at yesterday's sessions. J. Campbell Carrill, of the Seventh Kentucky district, and R. Y. Thomas, of the Third, made their maiden speeches.

The Zeppelin airship landed safely near Dingolfing at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after having been eleven hours in the air. Part of this time the journey was perilous. The rear motor refused to work and the forward motor alone could not develop sufficient strength to drive the airship against the high wind.

Retiring President Charles W. Eliot, of Harvard University, it was stated yesterday, in receiving from President Taft a tender of the ambassadorship to Great Britain, expressed to the Chief Executive both his appreciation of the honor and the belief that he would be unable to accept the post.

Complaints against Southern railroads growing out of recent increases in freight rates to Southeastern points were argued before the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington yesterday. Judge W. G. Dearing of Louisville, represented the Louisville and Nashville.

Every colliery in the anthracite region closed down yesterday in response to an order of President T. L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America, who designated the day for celebration of the establishment of the eight-hour day in the bituminous regions.

E. H. Harriman, much improved in health, returned yesterday to New York after his long vacation in the West. Mr. Harriman said that sentiment hostile to the railroads had subsided, but that repressive legislation was still on the books.

The police of Toledo, O., claim a murder mystery is attached to the finding of the bodies of Ludwig Krueger and wife under the cellar of their home, which had been burned by unknown murderers. Robbery was the motive.

The Royal Academy of Sweden has presented Thomas A. Edison with the Adelskold gold medal for his inventions in connection with the phonograph and the incandescent light. The medal is conferred only once in ten years.

On account of the session of the Senate, the Committee on Finance devoted only a short time yesterday to the consideration of the tariff question, and this was occupied in a scrutiny of the free list.

Hope of capturing Crazy Snake has practically been abandoned by the Oklahoma militia officers and it is expected the soldiers will be withdrawn and a reward offered for the Indian.

In to-day's issue of The Courier, Mr. Bryan scores Representative Fitzgerald and the other Democratic Congressmen who deserted to the Cannon standard in the fight on the rules.

Witnesses for the State in the Parrish bank wrecking case, at Hawesville yesterday, testified as to the insolvency of the Owensboro institution previous to its failure.

George Stanley, wanted by Federal authorities for alleged complicity in the riot at Stearns on Christmas day, has been captured in North Carolina by secret service agents.

The county unit local option bill failed of passage in the lower house of the Missouri General Assembly yesterday. The measure lacked six votes of the constitutional majority of 72.

Everett White shot and instantly killed his father-in-law, John Fisher, and a neighbor, James Rayburn, in the doorway of his home at Mason City, W. Va.

The Bank of England yesterday reduced the rate of discount from 3 to 2½ per cent.

NO AGREEMENT WITH HILL

New York, April 1.—Bronzed by his sojourn under Southern skies and brimming over with vitality, E. H. Harriman reached this city late to-day, to all appearances, a reinvigorated man after his long combination vacation and business trip over the network of Harriman railroads in the West, the Southeast and in Mexico.

"I'm all right now," was his rejoinder to a question as to the state of his health. "I have been made to say that we were constructing a line down the west coast of Mexico," he said. "What should have been said was that we already have constructed it. The line is now completed from Nogales, Ariz., on the Mexican line, to Mazatlan, Mexico, and in reality a new country has been discovered by this railroad construction. In one tract opened up by irrigation 600,000 acres of the best of land are made available for cultivation and opened to a market American help needed in the development? Yes, in a directive way. There is plenty of labor, but American initiative and executive ability will count here about appearing in public."

He was not captured to-day. Neither did he respond to a widely distributed invitation to surrender. The picturesque posses quitted the hunt, leaving the field to the First Regiment. O. N. G. Col. Hoffman sent squads through the border towns to search unexplored gulches in this vicinity, while Maj. Bartholomew, spreading his men, numbering 100, into extremely open ground, advanced like a comb through the Hickory woods. Crazy Snake, however, was elsewhere.

The Indian, however, had an extended powwow with the fugitive's allies. The interview took place at Crazy Snake's former home in the hills of which the Creek leader desisted to cultivate since the example of white neighbors whose farms are already turned to crop. The Snake place is a one-room shanty with a rickety porch and big chimney. The ground around it is a mad tangle of brush and fallen logs and the weeds.

The Indian's leader's sister and the wife of the former succeeded in convincing her questioner that she knew nothing of her brother's whereabouts, the Colonel, "up to him. He has twenty-four hours in which to put himself under our protection. He should do it, as the next morning he would be liable to capture."

Col. Hoffman admitted that he did not know where the fugitive had been to-day, but he had his suspicions, as somebody undoubtedly is taking food to the old chief along with him.

Urge More Privileges For Home Telephone Co.

MAYOR OPPOSED TO LATTER.

Twenty-five appointed to take in hand the matter of securing a reduction of telephone rates, has concluded that the telephone rates should be fair and just alike to the companies and to their subscribers in this city, namely:

"For a single line business telephone, $5.50."

"For a single line residence telephone, $2.50."

"And in which you ask whether or not this company, in case it shall become the purchaser of a franchise, would be willing to charge higher rates than those above named, would nevertheless be willing to adopt and abide by the schedule of charges and rates as now existing in other cities, so far as the citizens of Louisville are concerned."

"In answer to your inquiry we will say that the Louisville Home Telephone Company, in case it secures a franchise authorizing it to charge higher rates than those above mentioned, will do so, but since telephone service is a necessity, and not a luxury, we would hope that the end of long litigation. It is responsive neither to public sentiment nor to municipal authority."

Subscribers' Only Relief.

The only relief open to those who regard the charge excessive and the investigations made by this committee in other cities lead it to believe that these changes will be made. The committee has recommended to the Home Telephone Company that it give up its franchise and advance its rates to a $5.50 maximum basis, according to the citizens' committee's twenty-five men appointed to take in hand the telephone problem at a public meeting held under the auspices of the Louisville Commercial Club.

On the present schedule of rates the Louisville Home Telephone Company cannot command the capital necessary to enlarge its service sufficiently to take care of the public. The committee claims that the rates charged by the Louisville Home Telephone Company, and the careful investigation made by the citizens' committee convinces them that the same will come round.

We, therefore, consider it vital to the protection of the public's interests in this community that the telephone rates charged by the Home Telephone Company should be fair consideration in the matter of rates. It will be necessary to refer in detail to the charges levied by the Louisville Home Telephone and Telegraph Company for service.

On the present schedule of rates the Louisville Home Telephone Company cannot command the capital necessary to enlarge its service sufficiently to take care of the public. The committee claims that the rates charged by the Louisville Home Telephone Company, and the careful investigation made by the citizens' committee convinces them that the same will come round.

Under this ordinance, therefore, the telephone company will be given the right to change whatever from time to time shall be reasonable rates, as conditions may vary, and will be required to give a copy of its ordinance to the General Council in May, 1908, and which is now in litigation in the courts, commonly known as the "pig iron bill," which gives to the purchaser of the franchise an absolute right to charge the full rates named in that ordinance, unless the company can show that the rates therin named are merely maximum rates, and that it is to pay, rates less than those named in the ordinance.

The committee is of the opinion that the General Council has the power to reasonably regulate the charges of the company in the ordinance.

The anticipated action regarding the fixing of a time for closing the debate was not taken in view of the complex situation in which the Republican leaders found themselves.

There was only a slight increase in the attendance when the house met. Without any preliminaries consideration of the Payne bill was resumed.

EFFORT TO PASS RULE LIMITING TALKFEST ABANDONED.

PAYNE NOT SURE OF GROUND.

Washington, April 1—Dragging itself tediously along, general debate on the tariff was continued in the House of Representatives to-day and to-night. The Payne bill came in for its usual condemnation from the Democrats, the reductions being characterized as pretenses and sham measures.

Mr. Finley, of South Carolina, expressed the opinion that the bill was a "philanthropic joker." Messrs. Gaines, of West Virginia, and McCullough, of Massachusetts, both members of the Ways and Means Committee, defended their measure, although the Massachusetts member wanted something specific in it regarding the course to be pursued toward the Philippines.

The Payne bill, it is estimated that 276 millions of iron ore are in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. He deplored the prospect of competition with the Cuban iron ore, adding that the difference in cost of labor here and in Cuba was very great.

Income Tax Favored.

Devoting himself to a discussion of the Payne bill from a revenue standpoint, Mr. Finley, of South Carolina, expressed the opinion that the principal reductions urged for placing iron ore on the free list were assumed, based largely on some loose statements made by Mr. Carnegie at the first session. Yet, while the Cuban iron ore was approaching exhaustion, no greater mistake could be made. Instead of that, the amount known to exist is enormous as almost to stagger belief.

VICTIM OF TWO ACCIDENTS WITHIN TWENTY-FOUR HOURS

Reel Driver Escaped With Bruises In First, But Suffered Serious Injury In Last.

Fate surely pursued John Gambrall, driver of the reel for the No. 21 engine company, yesterday, for he was involved in two accidents connected with his work in both of which he narrowly escaped with his life. When No. 21 engine company was reporting to the alarm from Dr. J. H. Frankfort, yesterday afternoon, the reel driven by Gambrall avoided a collision with a team of horses at Frankfort avenue and Poppe street by getting into a telephone pole on the corner. The pole was cracked by the terrific impact, and the reel was thrown into the air, which it died a few minutes later. Gambrall saw the engine coming around the corner and ran across the distance from it, and after calling to the engine, he ran into the rear step of the vehicle to jump for their lives, and got his horse into the path of the engine.

Last night at about 7 o'clock Gambrall went down to the No. 6 engine company, and while the horses were to take the place of the one killed the afternoon, he was riding the spirited de-

HOW TO DEVELOP BUST, ARMS AND NECK

Get separately "two ounces glycerine," "three ounces rose water," and "one ounce tincture of camomile" (one-half ounce), and five cents worth of borax. Take home, mix the glycerine and tincture together, shake and let stand two hours; then add a teaspoonful of borax and the rose water. Shake well and apply to bust, arms and neck, rubbing and massaging until completely absorbed; then wash thoroughly with water and soap and dry thoroughly.

Apply morning and night regularly for several weeks and the most remarkable development will begin to reward the efforts. It is believed by experts to be the most effective and effective prescription ever conceived.

SECTION WITH THEIR CASES HENRY VAN DYKE, also colored, from whom the pistol he used, was found $5 for carrying concealed a deadly weapon, and was fined $100 and given a four-mile run on the Newburg road on Saturday night. The negroes were arrested by County Patrolman J. A. Renfro.

The Day In The Criminal Court.

George Sims, colored, was convicted of a misdemeanor in shooting John Price, a colored man, in the face, and sentenced to serve one year in the county jail. Price, prosecuting witness in this case, was put on his own defense following his trial on the charge of shooting at Patrolman Robert Rice at Fourteenth and Grayson streets last September. The jury found him guilty.

Louis Mack, colored, pleaded guilty to the charge of maiming cutting and was sentenced to one year in the workhouse.

Witnesses for the defense, including three defendants in the action, Michael Lammert, Mrs. Anna Lammert and Mrs. Lorraine Callahan Lott, all denied absolutely that they had ever seen the letter. It was admitted, however, that Mrs. Josephine Callahan, wife of Earle H. Callahan, it is asserted, would testify as to instances of undue influence exerted by the defendants over their mother.

An Effort To Spare Feelings.

Some little feeling was shown in the testimony yesterday as to the desire of the parties to go into the air. It is the avowed intention of both sides to spare the family of defendant any unnecessary scenes during the trial.

DOESN'T WAIT FOR ORDINANCE

K. and I. Building Fill, Confident of Council Action.

Board of Works Locks Its Doors To Citizen.

Testimony That Member Acts As Agent For Both Sides.

MITCHELL TO THE RESCUE.

"The K. and I. doesn't care anything about this ordinance. They are going right ahead making their nit."

"The public's rights are not protected in this ordinance."

"I knocked at the door of the Board of Works. I got absolutely no satisfaction. I called a citizen's meeting on the committee hearing of the General Council."

John H. Brand, of the Board of Public Works, was abused by some of the residents of Twenty-eighth and Marine streets and defended gallantly by William K. Mitchell, general manager of the Kentucky and Indiana Bridge and Railroad Company, at a lively and interesting meeting of the railroad men of the lower city, held yesterday afternoon at the city hall.

The public hearing was for the purpose of considering a new ordinance which pertains to the Marine street from Twenty-seventh to Twenty-ninth street and entirely close Twenty-ninth street is that the public could not put all in the place of its present wooden trestle.

It was charged that Mr. Brand accepted a commission in the building of houses in the neighborhood in return for selling their land to the Bridge Company, which it is charged was done in the construction of three instances of where Mr. Brand is said to have accepted $35 for such transactions were received at the time of the hearing. Mr. Brand had turned money so collected over to the Bridge Company. . . .

Will Inspect Property Sunday.

C. Fred Vogler sat as chairman of the committee, which listened to both sides of the case. The other members present were: Mr. W. E. Davis, County Engineer; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Baughman, Jr., and Elmer Buenger, president of the body and an ex-officio member of the committee. Mr. Vogler advised that at the close of the hearing session that the committee would visit the territory in question next Sunday afternoon and then make its report to the council at a future meeting.

The fun started when Mr. Mitchell began going around the room, shouting at the public to protest against the passage of the ordinance and insinuating, strongly and unmistakably, his inability to unload their "hand" upon the Bridge Company at fancy prices. Councilman Albert Schrank, who was present, was quoted as having said: "I will not be budged one iota, nor will I ever be willing to give him a commission of $35. I needed the money and I told him I would not have it now or ever again." The next thing he heard was that there wasn't going to be any factory and that the K. and I. had bought ground on the other side of the street.

To which Mr. Mitchell replied:

"Mr. Brand has did anything of the kind. Your statement is entirely false."

approaches would be dangerous and they would turn the land about into a swamp. Mr. Buckley spoke next.

No Time for a Citizen.

"I went to see Mr. Brand yesterday to protest against this ordinance," began Mr. Buckley. "I knocked at the door of the office of Public Works and waited outside. I asked to see Mr. Brand. He closed the door a minute and then told me that Mr. Brand was busy and could not see me. I am not waiting for action by this body on the ordinance. They took thirty days to do this. They are not moving and dumped them. I don't think that is paving the proper respect to this body, to say the least. We are going to go to the public and blocking the street without an ordinance. You gentlemen can vote down this ordinance and I don't think the K. and I. would be able to stop it. Then we are going to go on the theory they have a God-given right to everything in that part of town. The entire closing of Twenty-ninth street would ruin his property on High street, a block away.

Mr. Mitchell next made a speech, although he crossed over all the other backs by frequently interrupting them.

Call It A Lie.

"I say that is a lie," Councilman Schrank answered, his face close to Mr. Mitchell's.

"Don't you call me a liar," said Mr. Mitchell sternly.

Councilman Schrank became quiet at once. Then Mr. Mitchell went on:

The whole matter contained in the ordinance is so bad that I don't know what to do. I don't know how an honest man can take offense at it."

"Well, I do," broke in H. J. Buckley, whose son-in-law owns land on Madison street effected by the ordinance. "I know that Mr. Brand did accept money from people for whom he sold their property on the K. and I."

"I know what you want, Buckley, and you don't know anything of the kind," said Mr. Mitchell.

"I don't, I don't!" retorted Buckley.

"Didn't he get $35 from each of four women for selling their property to your company?"

Says He Got Money From Three Only.

"No," answered Mr. Mitchell. "He only got it from three women and he turned it over to the company and didn't keep it."

Toward the end of the hearing, everyone got excited that the committee had crowded close around the table at which the committee was sitting.

One man said that the K. wouldn't keep the bill if it was to be a benefit to Mr. Mitchell.

"I know," said the man, "because I have been on the river."

"We'll have to get something on him," retorted Mr. Mitchell. "I'm a steamboat captain and I know that the bill will kill us."

If the bill is made we never will get any gas and water," chimed in Mrs. Buckley, who was present with her husband.

"Yes, and if it isn't made," came back from Mr. Mitchell, "you'll get ten feet of water on your property every time the river rises."

Councilman Schrank then said:

"Mr. Brand is making all kinds of money out of this bill. Why—why—he's foolish if he doesn't."

Scores On Mr. Schrank.

"Perhaps he is from your stampid of mortality," said Mr. Mitchell, laughing as he scored this point.

Councilman Schrank subsided for the second time, but he did not long remain. He next broke out as follows, it being interposed at times with a running exchange of words between himself and the K. and I.

"The K. and I. thought to railroad this thing through the Council. They want to have the ordinance, they have the available dirt for the work from the sewer which is being built. John Brand thinks he can put it in for the company, and I think this board to put it over. Brand ought to make $10,000 or $20,000 out of this deal."

"Now, Daily was a heavy man. He weighed something like 180 pounds, and he could run fast. He was carrying five pounds more than that. Still he was one of the best base runners that the game has known."

David did the greatest piece of base running that "Bill" Donovan has ever seen attempted on a ball field. It was during a game between Boston and Brooklyn. Daily reached first base by beating out a fielder's throw, and then ran to second base, a lead of one foot.

If there was ever a near riot on the field, it was during this game.

Chance is fast. Chance can slide.

And sometimes:

"Once four out, Jake." Now play it safe, old fellow, don't take too big a lead."

In this way was Beckley a star on the hardest things a baseman has to do.

HILPP & CO. FILE PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY.

ASSETS EXCEED LIABILITIES.

S. A. Hilpp & Co., clothing manufacturer, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States Court yesterday. The liabilities are listed at $2,372,520 and the assets are given at $24,667.03. The heaviest tool creditors of the concern are several banks. The other claims against the firm are debts owed firms in Eastern cities, principally Cincinnati, for stock and for the business of the concern. The bulk of the claims are unsecured.

G. Mr. Munro did not remember the amount of the bond, but he might have. He did not know what the sureties were. He was in hopes that none of the firemen would be able to get away with the ordinance.

The contract was let to the company by the Board of Public Safety. Each uniform cost $1.50. All firemen who ordered were required to pay one-half in advance. Therefore 260 feet of space were ordered to be paid.

Bush, the elusive and diminutive, and Moriarty, the strong and sturdy, bring the team into the American League, but with a son or other haven't the other necessary qualifications that the upper leagues demand.

Good judge that Moriarty boy. He pitched a pitcher here the other day by springing home while the twirler went up and up, and he beat the ball to the plate at that.

Then Bush. Little bit of a fellow that he can be, but when he comes right along he comes far from having the agility and grace of a Tiger.

Last year, if you happened to ask most any outsider who knows baseball to tell you who the best base runners on the Detroit team were, he would tell you: "Ty Cobb and Herman Schaeffer."

Ask them this year and you will hear them say: "Bush and Moriarty."

Well, there's Cobb, as fast as ever, and Schaeffer. Then there is also Bush and Moriarty.

great strength shown by steel stocks. The Easley plant of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company will not close soon; latest reports, though, indicate that the company is in a favorable position. The market is in a favorable position, and we welcome and expect it to continue so. They are slow movers as a rule. The market held well in spite of heavy resistance at times.—J. S. Bachelder & Co., to Washington Piercer & Co.

New York.—The reduction in the Bank of England's discount rate, amounted this morning, had an immediate stimulating effect on values, as well indeed it might, indicating, as it did, that the world's money market was broader since this reduction indicates a cessation of the gold export movement. At all times throughout the session the market was decidedly firm, activity always bringing with it a rise in prices.

The market was very active, and the steady new high ground which it has occupied since has rather sensational advances. An analysis of the day's transactions does not indicate any weakening of the technical position of the market, and can only be explained by the fact that our experts predicted the fall position.—Gillier & Co. to John L. Dunbar.

New York.—The market continues strong and the daily buying craze is now, as it was then, in full swing. We still believe that purchases can be made on all reasonable.—Kleibey, Howes & Co. to Alameda Bros.

New York.—This is a bull market and no mistake, and while the buying craze is on, just as is the case with the selling craze in a panicky market, predictions as to how long it will last are useless. Any instance, a week ago, it would have been safe to assume that said that fixed money would be writing around $15 in five days, yet it is now the fact, and the buying in so far continues to look good, in spite of the fact that the market is in the trough. The advance has been fast and furious, and this cannot be carried on indefinitely; everyone should keep this in mind and not become too excited, although at the present time there is a great deal of price.

Post & Elmer to John D. & D. Green.

New York.—The market became distinctly broader this afternoon. With each rise as was expected, the outside buyers were bound to write up again. The market is now, however, for a rising market for third days to come, but would buy only when stocks took off. Business is recovering in a slow, but reassuring, way, which gives grounds of permanence. The market has been very active, and the stock market is thought that the industrial situation will right itself within the next few months, and an effort therefore is being made to discount prudently betterments.—Ike Lawlor & Co.

New York.—The market displayed considerable activity this morning, and closed around with substantial gains, particularly in the Steel issues, which were in urgent demand, presumably by a good-sized foreign short interest. The ease in money seems to have encouraged large bidding securities to increase in value, and it is thought that the industrial situation will right itself within the next few months, and an effort therefore is being made to discount prudently betterments.—Ike Lawlor & Co.

New York.—Cables were persistently bought and, with Union Pacific, Reading, New York Central and Pennsylvania, leading the way. In the final dealing prices were strong and the market was active.

The tone of the cables was strong, and prices generally around the high marks. We expect higher cables from London in the morning and a strong and higher move in the local market.—E. H. Butler & Co. to E. H. Paine & Co.
